1. Purpose

UWC ISAK Japan expects all individuals and groups affiliated with the school community to act with integrity and to take responsibility for keeping students safe. Whether a student, staff/faculty member, a service or activity partner, a volunteer, recent alumni, contractor, guest, parent or visitor, it is our expectation that all will support our students and act with their wellbeing in mind at all times. This policy guides how we do so.

Scope

This policy applies to all students of the School (even if they are legally adults) as well as any children living on or visiting the School.

Policy Statement

Keeping children safe is everyone's responsibility at UWC ISAK Japan. In keeping with the mission and values of the UWC movement, we believe that every child and young person, regardless of age, has at all times and in all situations a right to feel safe and protected.

We are committed to safeguarding processes which include

- protecting students from abuse and neglect,
- preventing risk of harm to children's health or development, and
- ensuring children grow up with the provision of safe and supportive care

2. Introduction

At UWC ISAK JAPAN we expect our community to be honest and act with integrity; to be compassionate and morally responsible; and to help other people. We believe that every child and young person, regardless of age, has at all times and in all situations a right to feel safe and protected. UWC ISAK Japan expects all individuals and groups affiliated with the school community to act with integrity and to take responsibility for keeping students safe.

We know that learners need a secure and supported environment in which to learn and our safeguarding policies and procedures are designed to do so. They encompass: student wellbeing; bullying; harassment and discrimination; use of physical intervention / safe handling; meeting the individual physical, psychological or medical needs of students; drug and substance misuse; educational visits; relationships and sexuality education; online safety; the welfare of residential students and learners on school expeditions; as well as safe staff/faculty selection processes.

The UWC ISAK Japan Child Safeguarding Policy is aligned with the UWC Safeguarding Standards and the recommendations of the International Task Force on Child Protection that has set the standards for safeguarding in schools worldwide.

The aim of the safeguarding approach as set out in this document is for the risk to be reduced as far as reasonably possible, in a manner consistent with the educational objectives of the UWC Movement (of personal trust and responsibility, student autonomy, independence and service as well as personal warmth, which are essential to a UWC education).

This policy is binding for all who have contact with the school community, including staff/faculty, service and activity partners, volunteers, associated agencies, recent alumni, contractors, guests, parents and visitors. In keeping with this expectation, applicants for positions at the School must be willing to undergo child protection screening appropriate to the post, including checks with past employers.

Safeguarding is not a task that falls on some individuals. All members of our School community have a duty to safeguard our students and be aware that incidents can happen at any time and anywhere.

Any such policy is only as good as all community members who operate it and who are likely to become aware of issues. At UWC ISAK Japan we expect all community members to take every opportunity to share concerns in the interests of students. Early recognition of potential problems is of the essence, as prevention is better than cure.

This policy is connected to the following:

- a) Handbooks

 - Staff
 - \(All\) Employee Guidelines
- b) Community Agreements
- c) Candidate Recruitment Policy and Procedures
- d) Peer on Peer Abuse Policy

- f) Guest Policy

These policies together form the “suite” of UWC ISAK JAPAN Child Safeguarding Policies and need to be available to the members of our community via our website. They are reviewed annually and presented to the Board for approval.

3. Definitions and Responsibilities

3.1 Definitions

The following definitions are provided to ensure clarity and consistency:

Child

While the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child defines a child as persons under the age of 18 years, at UWC ISAK JAPAN, we define child as any student of the School, or child visitor to the school. We recognise that some members of our school community are more vulnerable than others due to their personal circumstances. We need to remember that there are children both resident on and who visit the campus. All the processes established to protect students must be applied equally to younger children who are, in some ways, even more vulnerable.

Safeguarding

Is not just about protecting students from deliberate harm. It is linked to welfare and is what we do for all children. Safeguarding involves the process of protecting children from abuse and neglect, preventing harm to children’s health or development, ensuring children grow up with the provision of safe and effective care.

Child protection

Is part of the safeguarding process. It focuses on protecting individual children where there are concerns about abuse or neglect. This includes child protection procedures which detail how to respond to concerns about a child.

Child abuse

Is a serious and complex problem that may occur in the lives of children and young people. It is the term used to describe different types of maltreatment inflicted on a child or young person. Child Abuse includes non-accidental physical injury, neglect, sexual abuse and emotional or psychological abuse. In its most serious forms, abuse can lead to death or developmental harm to the physical or emotional wellbeing of a child or young person.

Peer-on-peer abuse

While often associated with adults, we need to remember that children can commit abuse on their own peers.

Physical abuse

Physical abuse may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

Emotional abuse

Emotional abuse is the persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve:

- conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued insofar as they meet the needs of another person.
- not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or "making fun" of what they say or how they communicate.
- It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child from participating in normal social interaction.
- It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another
- It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying) causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children.

Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.

Sexual abuse

Sexual abuse involves forcing or enticing a child to participate in sexual activities whether the child is aware or not of what is happening. Minors/children/students cannot consent to any sexual actions with adults even if they appear to do so. It does not necessarily involve a high level of violence.

The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts (such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing). They may also include non-contact activities such as encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways or grooming a child in preparation for abuse, whether online or offline. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males, women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children (peer-on-peer).

Neglect

Neglect is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic and/or physical needs, likely to result in serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may also occur during pregnancy as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to:

- provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment);
- protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger;
- ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers);
- ensure access to appropriate medical care treatment;
- being unresponsive to a child's basic emotional needs.

4. Best Practices

Reporting concerns

Faculty and staff members should report concerns using MyConcern.

Those members of the community without access to MyConcern can report instances to:

- A trusted adult on campus who will communicate the concern to the safeguarding team
- The Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) and Deputy Safeguarding Lead (DDSL) safeguarding@uwcisak.jp,
- The allegation or concern is in regards to the DSL or DDSL, in which case it should be addressed to the Head of School.
- If the allegation or concern is in regards to the Head of School, it should be addressed to the Safeguarding Committee of the board at safeguarding.committee@uwcisak.jp.
- If the allegation or concern is in regards to a board member (including members of the Safeguarding Committee), it should be reported to the UWC international Office safeguarding@uwc.org.

Visitors to UWC ISAK Japan are often struck by the familiarity and even closeness that exists between many adults and students, which is part of the UWC spirit and which can improve the quality of living and learning in our community.

The use of first names between staff/faculty and students is accepted common practice. We seek clarity of preferred names and pronunciation with all members of our School community. Some students and staff/faculty may initially experience discomfort with this and we show sensitivity to this. When in doubt, seek consent.

With so many people living and working so far from home, an atmosphere of being a community/family is appreciated by many. This is the reason for the residential experience, offering opportunities for living and learning together whether it is sharing an advisory meal, a Project Week trip, a class, etcetera. At UWC you find fewer boundaries between students and adults than at many other academic institutions. For this reason, we should be especially vigilant about appropriate parameters and clearly agreed-upon forms of communication between adults and students. What follows is a summary of guidance tips:

- One-to-one tutorials should always take place in full view of others. This would typically be in a room where a student and adult can be clearly seen through a window or open door. Staff/faculty are strongly advised not to be in a room one-to-one with a student unless necessary professional circumstances apply. If this situation does arise staff/faculty are asked to inform the safeguarding via MyConcern.
- Apart from House Mentors, staff/faculty should never conduct one-to-one tutorials or meetings in their homes. Members of staff/faculty are, however, most welcome and to invite groups of three or more students into their homes for scheduled activities (for example, for advisory groups). House Mentors may well have students coming to see them in their home individually, in which cases it is preferable to have a friend with them or to have another adult somewhere in their housing. It is accepted that this is not always possible. If this situation does arise staff/faculty are asked to inform the safeguarding team immediately and log it after on MyConcern .

- Students should not be visiting staff/faculty accommodation after Check-In except in case of an emergency. Members of staff/faculty may not host students overnight.
- Members of staff/faculty should be wary of conveying individual students in their cars. If this situation does arise staff/faculty are asked to inform the log it on MyConcern. Exceptions to this would apply to staff/faculty driving students in an emergency situation.
- Where physical contact is needed with individuals, they should do so only in full view of others and in accordance with their particular professional guidance and consent.
- No inappropriate touching or unnecessary physical contact should be made with students. Whilst a friendly hug or tap on the shoulder in full view of others is acceptable with consent, excessive handling, cuddling or kissing (for example) are not. Staff/faculty members should never initiate hugs or physical contact (although they can reciprocate a hug) without first establishing consent with the student.
- Staff/ faculty should remain professional at all times around students in both conduct and speech. Adults should remain sensitive to any discomfort expressed verbally or nonverbally by the student and discuss any concern with the safeguarding team.
- Staff/faculty should never be alone with students in secluded areas unless they have been searching for the student.
- Staff/faculty should never engage in rough, physical or sexually provocative games with students.
- Sexually suggestive remarks should never be made by staff/faculty in the presence of students.
- Staff/faculty should never share sleeping accommodation with students (e.g. On Project Week, OED trips). Unless under exceptional circumstances (e.g. medical need or mental health need approved by DSL)
- Unless there are exceptional, urgent circumstances, electronic communication with students should always be made via School systems (email, Hangouts, ManageBac and so on). No member of staff/faculty and board should be connected with students via social networks such as Facebook/ LinkedIn/ Instagram until after the student has graduated from UWC ISAK Japan.
- If a member of staff/faculty feels that they may have overstepped that fine line between good staff/faculty-student relationships and inappropriate behaviour (for example a comment that might be misconstrued), this should be reported to the DSL/DDSL as soon as possible.
- For staff/faculty on residential duties or supervising trips, they should only enter student bedrooms after having knocked on the door and announced their presence. At night they should only enter student bedrooms when needed to conduct their duties, including for disciplinary or safety reasons.
- All staff should be aware of indicators, which may signal that children are at risk. Unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals within an inappropriate relationship.

4.1 Safe Recruitment and Employment Practices

Refer to Recruitment policy and procedure

4.2 School Visitors

Refer to Guest policy

4.3 Induction and Training of Staff/faculty

Every member of the staff/faculty, including part-timers, voluntary, peripatetic and temporary staff/faculty working in the School will receive appropriate induction training on their responsibilities in being alert to the signs of abuse (including bullying) and neglect and on the procedures for recording and referring any concerns to the DSL/DDSL. Therefore, training in safeguarding will be mandatory during the induction process and include:

- a) Reading a copy of this Policy and signing safeguard training Log via MyConcern.
- b) Ensuring that all staff/faculty are aware of the identity of the DSL and DDSL, how the contact and in what cases should they be contacted.
- c) Explaining the way in which disclosures and other student protection issues should be addressed.
- d) A promotion of the awareness of the need to be alert to any indication of safeguarding issues and how to respond to them.
- e) An introduction to the Staff/Faculty code of conduct in the Staff/Faculty Handbook.
- f) Documented completed safeguarding course of the school's choosing

4.4 Contextual Safeguarding

The school must be a safe place for all students. This covers all aspects of school Health & Safety including fire safety and crisis management, medical concerns, resource use. Please also note the following key points:

1. Doors should have clear glass windows, any film or blinds must still allow occupants to be visible from outside the room. On occasions where the physical environment does not allow for this, the meeting should be declared/documentated in advance and/or the door kept open. In circumstances where privacy is important, such as counseling, the orientation of the room to the window should provide for discretion without compromising safeguarding standards.
2. Bathrooms for adult use are available in the KAC office and the upper floor of Asama building and TAC. Adults must not use the same bathrooms as students. In cases where it is necessary to enter a student allocated bathroom, such as to attend to a behavioural or health and safety issue, leave the door open and announce your reason for entering the space as a warning to other students using the bathroom. Where possible in such situations avoid being alone.
3. If adults are in a one to one situation with students in a room, (e.g in boarding, on expeditions or trips) ensure the door remains open, or move to a more public space where possible/appropriate.
4. Adults should avoid entering student bedrooms. For Residential Team members in cases where entering the bedroom is necessary such as to attend to an unwell student or at check in when a student has already gone to sleep, adults should knock on the door, state who you are and the reason for entering the room and ask for permission to enter. As best practice try to have another student with you so that you are not alone with a student while in their bedroom.
5. Adults should avoid entering the student houses after curfew. In cases where entering a student house after curfew is necessary, adults should be accompanied where possible and should clearly state the purpose of the visit before entering. For the residential team this may be necessary to carry out their duties checking on student wellbeing and behaviour.
6. Adults should not allow students into their homes for socialising. As a residential campus there may be occasions where students enter faculty/staff housing e.g. advisory, small house session with house/duty mentor or emergencies etc, there should always be more than one student present. The meeting should also be declared/documentated in advance e.g. advisory time slot. In the event that a teacher finds themselves at home with one student they should immediately inform the DSL and log on MyConcern.

7. Adults may take students off campus for scheduled events such as advisory outings etc. Any off-campus trip should be declared/documentated in advance, there should always be more than one student present.

8. In the event that an adult is invited into the common area of a student residence for a social occasion, ensure the student has informed the other members of the house in advance, declare the purpose of the visit upon entering, remain only in common areas of the residence and log the event on MyConcern.

9. In the event that an adult takes a walk with a student, ensure you remain on the path, where possible avoid walking alone with a student and declare the activity in advance to safeguard the safeguarding team. After the event log on MyConcern.

10. Off campus incidents that have an impact on on campus will be handled as per the safeguarding policy

4.5 Young Children on campus

As a boarding school there are many times where young children are on campus. This often includes children of faculty and staff. Children should never be in student bedrooms and should only be in student houses with the permission of the child's parents/guardians and permission from all students residing in the house.

4.6 Promoting awareness of safeguarding issues

The School curriculum and pastoral programme are designed to foster the spiritual, moral, social and cultural development of all our students. All residential/teaching faculty play a vital role in this process, helping to ensure that all students relate well to one another and feel safe and comfortable within the School. We expect all the teaching and medical staff to lead by example and to play a full part in promoting an awareness that is appropriate to their age amongst all our students on issues relating to health, safety and wellbeing.

All School staff/faculty have an important role in ensuring that students always adhere to the standards of behaviour set out in the Community Agreements and in reinforcing our Peer on Peer Abuse Policy. If there are concerns about a student which falls short of requiring action under this code, such concerns should be shared by contacting the student support team directly support.team@uwcisak.jp. The DSL must consider ways in which to ensure that the students are aware of ways in which they should report any matter that causes them concern. This should include ensuring that the issue is addressed regularly during student meetings and may include the use of different resources (online and offline) to ensure students know that any safeguarding issue is always treated seriously.

4.7 Support to students

The School supports students in the following ways:

1. Employment of two full-time Counsellors who are qualified. An on-call counsellor is available 24/7 in case of emergencies, the counsellor can be contacted via the on duty residential team.
2. Training is provided to Residential Assistants specifically covering the importance of offering support to vulnerable students. They are trained and supported by the Counsellor

- and residential staff/faculty.
3. House Mentors receive specific training to be particularly aware of safeguarding issues.
 4. All School staff/faculty receive specific training in handling disclosures following this Policy.
 5. UWC ISAK Japan notice boards will display advice on where students can seek help and state clearly who to contact.
 6. The School works continually on promoting a trusting and open relationship between staff/faculty and students, with the staff/faculty expected to remain open and aware of safeguarding issues.
 7. Advisory groups are small by design and offer a key student-staff/faculty relationship that can facilitate disclosures.
 8. The House Mentors and counsellors provide sessions for all students on emotional life skills including decision-making, consent and communication.

5. Peer on peer abuse

Refer to Peer on Peer abuse policy

Interaction agreement may be used when supporting students

Any kind of historical allegations against a member of staff/faculty, a volunteer, a board member, a student, a parent or any other person connected to the School should be reported to safeguarding@uwcisak.jp and will be considered by the DSL/DDSL in consultation with the Head in order to decide how they will be handled.

There are some occasions where information must be shared above the safeguarding team. The community member involved would be informed of this before it takes place. More details can be found the the Escalation Procedure document

6. Managing Safeguarding allegations

6.1 Action following a report of Safeguarding issue

Following an incident, we will consider:

- The wishes of the victim in terms of how they want to proceed. This is especially important in the context of sexual violence and sexual harassment;
- The nature of the alleged incident(s), including: whether a crime may have been committed and consideration of harmful sexual behaviour;
- The power imbalance between the community members.
- Are there ongoing risks to the victim, other children, adults or school staff; and other related issues and wider context?

Follow up Actions

Refer to Peer on peer abuse policy for student follow up actions.

Refer to Procedures for Dealing with a Safeguarding Allegation or Concern

Community members sharing campus:

Whilst the school establishes the facts of the case:

- The perpetrator may be removed from campus.

These actions are in the best interests of both parties and should not be perceived to be a judgment on the guilt of the alleged perpetrator.

6.2 Options to manage the report of abuse

6.2.1. Manage internally

1. In some cases of abuse, for example, one-off incidents, we may decide that it would be appropriate to handle the incident internally, perhaps through utilising faculty/staff handbook. It is the aim to provide pastoral support such as prescribed counselling. This decision will be made based on the principle that lapses in safeguarding are never acceptable and will not be tolerated. All decisions, and discussions around making these decisions will be recorded and stored by the safeguarding team on MyConcern.

2. In line with 1 above, we may decide that the individuals involved do not require statutory interventions but may benefit from early help. Early help means providing support as soon as a problem emerges, at any point in a victim's life. Providing early help is more effective in promoting the welfare of children than reacting later. Early help can be particularly useful to address non-violent harmful sexual behaviour and may prevent escalation of sexual violence.

3. Where an individual has been harmed, is at risk of harm, or is in immediate danger, we will make a referral to the Multi Disciplinary Team following agreed protocols.

Where statutory assessments are appropriate, the designated safeguarding lead or a deputy will be working alongside, and cooperating with, the relevant lead counsellor. Collaborative working will help ensure the best possible package of coordinated support is implemented for the victim and, where appropriate, the alleged perpetrator and any others that require support.

6.2.2. Reporting to the Police

Any report to the police will generally be made through the Multi Disciplinary Team as above. The designated safeguarding lead (and their deputy) will follow local processes for referrals.

Where a report of rape, assault by penetration or sexual assault is made, the starting point is the report this will be passed on to the police.

When a report has been made to the police, the school will consult the police and agree what information can be disclosed to staff and others, the alleged perpetrator, parents or carers as appropriate. They will also discuss the best way to protect the victim and their anonymity.

When there is a criminal investigation, we will work closely with the relevant agencies to support all children involved (especially potential witnesses). When required, advice from the police will be sought in order to help us.

Whilst protecting children and/or taking any disciplinary measures against alleged perpetrators, we will work closely with the police (and other agencies as required), to ensure any actions the school or college take do not jeopardise the police investigation.

6.2.3. The need for immediate action

It is vitally important that the community receives the right help at the right time to address risks and prevent issues escalating. Early signs of abuse and neglect should be acted upon without delay and clear records kept. Information must be shared quickly, and inaction challenged.

Throughout the process the views of the student/s should be listened to and concerns should be reassessed when situations do not improve. There is a need to differentiate between the safeguarding of students who have suffered or are likely to suffer significant harm and those who need additional support. Although decisions to seek support for a student would normally be taken in consultation with the parents and the student/s, there is no consent required where there are reasonable grounds to believe that the student is at risk of significant harm.

Examples where UWC ISAK Japan would not need consent from the student and/or parents to take action:

1. A serious allegation is made against a staff/faculty member or other adult, or
2. There is reasonable cause to suspect a child or student is suffering, or is likely to suffer significant harm, or
3. It appears that a criminal offense may have been committed,

The Head of School (or in their absence the Deputy Head) shall be informed immediately. The Head will decide, in consultation with the DSL/DDSL, immediately and in any event within 24 hours, whether the allegations shall be reported to the Japanese Police or any other relevant Japanese authority.

6.3 Types of allegations

6.3.1. Allegations against students

Where an allegation is made of abuse by one or more students against another and there is a reasonable cause to suspect that a student or students is/are suffering or are likely to suffer significant harm, the DSL will regard all the students as being at risk. For example, a bullying incident should be treated as a safeguarding concern when there is “reasonable cause to suspect that a child is suffering or likely to suffer significant harm”. Where there is no reason to suspect or fear significant harm, the peer on peer abuse policy should be consulted. See Peer on Peer abuse policy

6.3.2. Allegations or concerns about School Staff/faculty

Any concerns about the behaviour of any School staff/faculty towards a student should be discussed with the DSL or DDSL as soon as possible.

Any allegations of abuse and/or neglect must be reported to the DSL/DDSL immediately and in any event, within 24 hours.

6.3.3. Historical allegations

Any historical allegations should be reported to safeguarding@uwcisak.jp

Historical allegations are categorised in two categories:

Past teacher - past student - handled by Multidisciplinary team

One member is current - handled by Multidisciplinary team

In confronting a safeguarding issue the following procedure will be used to ascertain the facts in the issue.
